MARVELOUS SUCCESS OF OGDEN CHOIR SHOWN IN NEWSPAPER CRITICISMS

Largest and Best.

Oregonian: Nobody can accuse Portland musical audiences of being cold after the remarkable demonstration accorded last night to the two hundred odd members of the Mormon Tabernacle choir, of Oxden, Utah, under the direction of Joseph Ballantyne. No soquer had the last rich chord of "The Soldiers" Chorus; from Gounod's "Faust," rung through the Festival hall. Exposition, than the choir worship began. Every number was encored several times, but to responses were made. Mr. Ballantyne and the two soloists contented themselves with bowing their acknowledgments. The Ogden people in Portland, coming by each mail, confirm the accounts of the great success achieved by Ogden's musical organization in the Rose City, Clippings from the Portland papers also tell of the great triumph. One enthusiastic utah man, in telling or the first public diappearance of the choir in the Auditorium, says:

"Fully 3,000 people were present. At the slose of the singing of the Ode the entre audience arose and cheered for fully ive minutes. It was a tremendous ovation. Order could not be restored until the choir sang the "Soldiers' Chorus" om "Faust." Tom Richardson spoke the glorious music, saying it was surior to anything he had ever heard."

The tabernacle choir reached home at 1 o'clock this morning, covered with dust and glory. They were one stand all much elated over the success, of the trip and the consideration of the trip and the consideration on accident marred the pleasure of the trip. Mrs. Otelia Parry was leaving her berth on the way to was thrown to the floor, crushing her was thrown to the floor, crushing her for some time yet.

Miss Frima Lucy Gates, the soloist, is a granddaughter of Brigham Young, and is a sobrano coloratura, with a dramatic ouality that is rare in such a voice. The latter is pleasant in quality, the compass being from low B flat to B in altiesimo. Her phrasing and emission of tone is very good. Miss Gates will be heard of in a larger circle before long. The violin soloist, Willard E. Welhe, played with a charming tone, and showed technical skil of a high order. The accompanist was John J. McClellan, organist at the Mormon tabernacle of Salt Lake City, and his work is admirable. The conductor, Mr. Ballantyne, has had charge of the choir for seven years, and deserves credit for bringing it to such a high standard of efficiency. The shoir gives its last concert tonight in Festival hall, when an entirely new programme will be presented. It is hoped that the famous "Irrigation Ode" will be repeated on this occasion, by request. To hear this chorus is a valuable lesson in singing, and the opportunity should be fully taken advantage of.

Portland Telegram: Ogden's famous Mormon choir, composed of 25 voices, is without doubt one of the finest organizations of the kind in existence, and long ago its fame spread beyond the boundaries of Utah. The choir made its first public appearance in Portland yesterday in the Ogden day exercises at the exposition, and will remain here ten days.

terday in the Ogden day exercises at the exposition, and will remain here ten days.

Professor Joseph Ballantyne, who has been the leader since the choir was organized, is an admirable conductor, his readings showing strength, grace and musicianly conception.

The soprano soloist, Emma Lucy Gates, is a young woman of much charm and ability, and a singer of promise, her interpretations being poetic and highly artistic. She is a musician of brilliant temperament, Miss Gates is a granddaughter of Brigham Young. She recently returned from serious study with distinguished instructors in Europe.

Other leading artists are Willard E. Welhe, a clever violinist, and John J. McClellan, an excellent organist, pianist and a sympathetic accompanist. Mr. McClellan resides in Sait Lake City.

The feature of the entertainment last night, at the meeting of the National Irrigation congress in the Auditorium, was the rendition by the choir of the irrigation ode. Two years ago, when the congress met in Ogden, a cash prize was offered for the best ode, Professor McClellan winning the prize for the best musical arrangement.

In its work last night the choir revealed the three predominating qualities of choral work—spirit, color and volume. It sang the "Solders" Chorus' from "Faust" with that fire which people little dreamed existed outside of the Metropolitan Opera House. The ovation was tremendous and from then on the audience was wildly enthusiastic. Greater appreciation, be it said to Portland's credit, has rarely been manifested here on any occasion. And yet in Utah these choirs are regarded as a matter of course. Joseph Ballantyne, the conductor, is of the right school and competent to the end of his baton.

The soloists of the choir during its local engagement are Emma Lucy Gates, soprano, granddaughter of Brigham Young, and Willard E. Weihe, a violinist.

Miss Gates sang the sofo in "Inflammatus" and the "Pearl of Brazil" with wonderful effect. Tonight she will be heard again. Professor Weihe was tendered an ovation no less merited.

The organ accompaniments were played by John J. McClellan, organist of the cond instrument in all the world—the abernacle organ of Salt Lake City. Although McClellan is a young man, he lays with remarkable depth and techcial skill. He is a composer, too, of reat ability. The choir will give its second and final concert at the Auditorium tonight, commencing at 8 o'clock.

The county board of education is preparing to furnish transhowith the county based of the school district. They will have a large wagon made and will close one of the school rooms of Taylor's, taking the pupils to and from the West Weber school. This will permit a better grading of the school system and dispense with the expense of maintaining two schools in Taylor's.

At vesterday's meeting of the county board it was also decided that the coult of each school district be purchased by the bound member representing that district. It was found impracticable to purchase the fuel under one contract for the reason that the conditions for delivery vary in the different localities. Some can receive it directly from the cars while others will average to haul it from Ogden.

Clerk G. G. Dye reported that the indebtedness of the Weber county school district, which will assume the indebtedness of all the former individual district, will assume the indebtedness of all the former individual district, will assume the indebtedness of the Weber county school district.

Miss May Cook presided at a very pleasand the serving of dainty refreshments and an unusually jobly time was had. The guests comprised Misses Elsie Browning, Elva Littlefield, Ione Wilcox. Josic Bune, May Williams and Miss Clara Botter of Wyoming.

Sheriff Bailey left last night for Springfield. III., with requisition papers signed by Acting Governor Tingey, for Arthur E.
Walters, a practicing physician at Springfield, III. The charge against Walters is sworn to by Miss Bessie Gray, who claims that the young physician accomplished her ruin and later sent her through the United States mail an instrument designed to effect a criminal operation. He also sent her instructions how to use it. It is the use of the mails in sending these things that is made the besis of the criminal charge on which it is intended to bring Walters to trial.

Miss Gray, it is learned, resided near St. Louis, and it was while Walters was a student at Marion Sims college that he effected her ruin. She came to Ogden after her condition became known and remained here with her brother.

The girl did not endeavor to hide her shame in the manner directed, but turned the letter, and the instrument over to the September Usually the Worst Month For Yellow Fever.

New Orleans, Aug. 26.—Except in 1853, September has been the month yielding the largest number of fatalities during visitations of yellow fever and the federal authorities are, therefore, taking steps to maintain their present control of the situation. September frequently brings increased precipitation, causing stagtant rools of water, the overflow of cisterns, and destruction of the effects of oiling.

Mostly Foreigners.

An increase in deaths over the past few days was recorded in the report of the past twenty-four hours, but was regarded as without significance, most of the victims being among the foreign classes and two of the deaths having occurred yesterday too late to be in-luded in the report of that day. All the schools were to have opened on Sept. 25, but it is announced that the date will be extended to Oct. 2.

Health Officer Aucoin, of Assumption, wired today that there were two cases of yellow fever at Bayou Bear and seven cases at Amelia postoffice.

Case From Memphis.

Dr. White today telegraphed to Dr. Heber Boyce at Memphis the result of his investigation of the case of Mrs. Frank Guerico, the woman ill with yellow fever whom he believed to have been infected in Memphis. On a re-port of the marine hospital service to this effect, Jackson, Miss., and a member of other towns imposed quarantines against Memphis. The Memphis authorities are reported to have expressed indignation over the report. Dr. White has from the woman the been in no infected point for thirty days, having resided with Mrs. Vincent Guerico, in Memphis at 249 North Fourth street, for thirty days preceding Fourth street, for thirty days preceding Aug. 14. She left Memphis Aug. 15, reached New Orleans on the 19th. Her case was diagnosed as yellow fever. Mrs. Guerico is convalescent. It was on the basis of the fact that she became ill so soon after arriving here from Memphis, that Dr. White called the attention of the surgeon general to the case.

WITH THE BOAT

St. Louis, Aug. 26.—National Secretary Anthony Matre announced Friday that owing to the prevalence of yellow fever in New Orleans, the Fifth national convention of the American Federation of Catholic societies, which was to convene in the latter city, had to be indefinitely, postponed. The national executive board of the federation will meet in Clincinnati, Sept. 10, to make other arrangements.

of the submarine torpedo boat Plunger, The police had the woman in custody

Smooth enough to give the Denver police much trouble, Edra Fulton, alias Cherry, is said by the local police to have told friends that Salt Lake did not contain big enough game to warrant her risking prosecution by using nimble fingers.

The police had the woman in custody the submarine torpedo boat Plunger, from the deck of the yacht Sylph. The westerday They claims the submarine torpedo boat Plunger, from the deck of the yacht Sylph. The weather was quite different from that of yesterday when the president hinself made a dive in the Plunger and watched out of Denver and Cripple Creek, Colo. The Fulton woman was arrested yesterday by Sergeant Richard Eddington and Patrolman Joseph Barfów. She will leave the city this afternoon for the west.

According to advices received by the local department from Denver and Cripple Creek, she is a smooth thief who chooses her victims among men of standing, too well known to make complaint. The woman has been in this city for about a week, but up to yesterday the police say they were unable to find her until yesterday, owing to the fact that she kept changing her residence from day to day.

Made a dive in the Plunger and watched at close range, even participating in the maneuvers of the tiny vessel, forty feet below the surface of Long Island sound. A stiff northeastern wind was blowing, but the rain had ceased and the sun soon burned away the early morning haze. The test of the Plunger took place in the waters of the sound. Soon after the president and his party boarded the Sylph, the Plunger got under way. At fine request of the president, the little vessel performed some of her feats within the waters of Oyster Bay. While the president was on board the vessel yesterday, no at-tempt was made to discharge a tor-pedo. As he was anxious to witness that experiment it was arranged that Lieutenant Nelson, the commander of the vessel, and his men would launch one of the projectiles within the bay. Accompanied by Lieutenant Frank Evans, commander of the Sylph and the president's cousin, W. Emlen Roosevelt, the president went to the bridge of the Sylph fo witness the experiment. After maneuvering a few minutes, making in the meantime several porpolise dives the Plunger care. eral porpoise dives, the Plunger came to the surface and discharged a torpedo. The bow of the vessel rose a few feet out of the water; there was a gush of foam, several fathoms ahead and the torpedo skimmed along the surface of the bay for perhaps 200 yards. Projectile was picked up by one of the Sylph's launches. Sylph's launches.

Before leaving he expressed his satisfaction with the maneuvering of the vessel and the notable skill of the men who handled her. He had learned, he said, that the officers and men on the boat were receiving for the said. the boat were receiving for the services they are now rendering, only shore pay, although it was manifested that at no time would their services be more hazardous than it is at pres-ent.
